UNDERSTANDING AND BUILDING OUR WORLD AND OUR STORIES TOGETHER

At the Stewart Museum, we use objects, stories and shared experiences to help our visitors better understand the world around them, no matter their age or background.

With our participatory approach and our civic perspective, we prioritize observation, interrogation, and dialogue in our activities.

PROGRAM FOR DAY CAMPS AT THE STEWART MUSEUM UP TO 120 PARTICIPANTS

SET SAIL!

Have you ever travelled? In New France, journeys and exploration were motivated by necessity, not pleasure, in the hope of a better life. Like the deckhands on their ships, adventurers set out into the unknown and faced sometimes treacherous trials. Their success depended on their ability to innovate, find creative solutions and collaborate. Through period artifacts and stories, young participants will take on challenges inspired by the world of travel and navigation, past and present.

History and Memory – Guided tour with a Museum mediator

Through this exhibition spanning over five centuries of history, visitors will explore navigation tools and themes related to transportation and travel.

The Story Factory – Participatory workshop

Considering the challenges of today's world, participants will create a prototype of the vehicle of the future.

Ahoy, Mateys! – Collaborative games

Students become deckhands for a day as they embark on fun collaborative games and take on challenges that will help them navigate their ship across the ocean.
